

SAP consulting company itelligence demonstrates top consulting quality itelligence awarded “TOP CONSULTANT” quality seal

Bielefeld, July 26, 2010 – The successful SAP consulting company itelligence AG has been awarded the “TOP CONSULTANT” quality level in the category of IT consultants in the SME segment by compamedia GmbH and Dr. Dietmar Fink, Professor for Management Consulting at the Bonn-Rhein-Sieg University of Applied Sciences.

“TOP CONSULTANT” is supported academically by Prof. Dietmar Fink, who has been observing the consultancy scene for many years. His goal: To create more transparency on the often opaque consulting market, where according to compamedia roughly 15,000 consultants are offering their services. Fink acts here as an expert on the consultancy scene. His “Top Ten of Germany’s biggest management consultants” for manager magazin is awaited with much anticipation each year. Now he is putting his expertise to use for the SME sector.

The extensive analysis is based on evaluations by customers of itelligence who were surveyed online by Prof. Fink and his team in a standardized procedure. An extensive catalog of criteria examined not only the technical and methodological competence of the consulting companies but also allows conclusions to be drawn regarding their achievement and thus customer satisfaction.

“We are delighted about our customers' positive evaluations. In the “TOP CONSULTANT” award, Prof. Fink and compamedia GmbH have created a quality level of high quality and with an academic background. It is also fantastic that Hans Eichel, German Federal Minister of Finance (retired), is also supporting this as a mentor”, says Torsten Scholz, Marketing Director of itelligence, stressing the importance of this award for itelligence.

The results of the evaluations of itelligence AG speak for themselves. In the points examined – expertise, reliability, adaptability and customer satisfaction – itelligence put in a convincing performance across the board, achieving the highest ratings for expertise and integrity.

itelligence AG Press Release
itelligence awarded "TOP CONSULTANT" quality seal

Urban Hopen, Professional Services Management, itelligence AG: "Small and medium-sized enterprises have particularly high demands in selecting their consulting partners. Therefore the acknowledgement by this study and so by our customers themselves gives me great pleasure. The "TOP CONSULTANT" quality level is confirmation of the excellent work and the dedication of our employees, who have been successfully advising our customers with great personal commitment and passion for over 20 years. At the same time, we also see the award as a responsibility and an incentive to keep working together with our small and medium-sized customers to optimize their business processes with excellent SAP solutions and thus to contribute to their success in future too."
