

GIFA – 10th International Foundry Trade Fair in Düsseldorf from June 16 to 21, 2003

itelligence presents it.cast, a comprehensive new solution for the foundry industry

Frankfurt, May 27, 2003 – itelligence’s new industry solution, it.cast, promises maximum convenience and flexibility for controlling processes in the foundry industry. The full-service provider for SAP will unveil its new industry-specific solution with pre-configurations for foundries producing mould castings and diecastings, single and repetition castings at the 10th International Foundry Trade Fair (GIFA) in Düsseldorf (Hall 10, Booth B 31).

it.cast integrates seamlessly into the value chain of the foundry industry. It is tailored to the production processes of foundries and offers functions such as production planning for single and repetition castings, set-up optimization and availability check for primary materials, machines and tools. The solution based on SAP All-in-One also permits integrated tool management including moulds, patterns and cores and supports administrative and logistics departments through cost and product estimating with integrated calculation of target and actual costs. itelligence’s new industry solution also supports typical requirements made by automotive suppliers such as EDI connection as well as the release and management of delivery schedules.

Frank Klein, Director of the Metal Line of Business: “Building on our many years of experience and excellent knowledge of the metal processing industry, we now offer a solution tailored to the needs of foundries.”
